Our story

“Since 1975, our vocation at Pájaro Azul Ranch has been agriculture and dairy farming”

The search of fertile soils in those years, made the arrival of our founder, Don Elias Torres Sandoval, to this magical place: the Jaral de Berrios Valley, in San Felipe, Guanajuato.

A profound love and hard work for the land and the Holstein dairy breed, those were his main motivations to produce high quality milk and forrages, from it's origins, to nowadays.

A lifetime's work devoted to agriculture and cattle, was easily transmitted to the next generation: the love and respect for our land and the passion to produce high quality foods, motivated the family to integrate their productive chain and add value to their products: that's how in 2006 our first star was born: ROMPOPE GUANAMÉ, and it's first steps as our brand in the market.

The constant care of our land, our cattle and natural environment, made us to look for alternatives in crops that were more sustainables, and with that to make a better use of our vital natural resources like water; Therefore, in 2011 that's how our vineyard plantation starts, with grapevines being a crop that requires lesser amount of water than others established traditionally.

With sandy-clay soils, semi-desertic climate and 1850 meters of altitude, grapevines found a home at our land and our family. Moscatel, Syrah, Malbec, Merlot, Tempranillo & Cabernet Sauvignon are some of the varieties that we have planted.

TODAY, we are very proud that our products are being recognized both nationally and internationally, for their quality. 17 medals obtained at prestigious contests such as Concours Mondial de Bruxelles, Decanter World Wine Awards, México Selection, Spirits Selection, & México International Wine Competition, among others. Triumphs that we share with all of our people and staff since they are fundamental to our operation.

GUANAMÉ – GUANAJUATO, MÉXICO , & PÁJARO AZUL: our brands as a remembrance to the origin of our wines: authentic and with unique identity of our valley, our terroir, proudly from Guanajuato and Mexican, with a filosofia to produce the best of our land, for México and for the World.
