GENERAL OPINION & PAIRING:

Youthful and flirty, this blushed Barrigón makes you fall in love with him just by looking at it. This wine's got a dense body that drips slowly down the glass, while it shows off strawberry, watermelon and a slight touch of cotton candy on the nose.

Wine with a mild acidity, great for a sunny spring afternoon. On the aftertaste notes of yeast and grapefruit dance in rhythm with its acidity.

Drink fresh, paired with tacos: maybe with suadero, crunchy fried tripa or even with a Baja style taco.
